Phase 2b data readout now weeks away. We are herewith reminding investors that Oramed is now only several weeks away from completing the ongoing Phase 2b trial of its lead oral insulin candidate, ORMD-0801. In our opinion, data from this trial would, if positive, constitute a transformative event for the company. The firm is also conducting a Phase 1b trial with its second pipeline candidate, ORMD-0901 and expects data imminently; this could pave the way for initiation of a Phase 2b trial with ORMD-0901 later in the year. Oramed also closed 2015 with roughly $40M in cash, which we believe should be sufficient to fund operations for at least the next two years. Accordingly, we reiterate our Buy rating and 12-month price target of $25.00 per share.

China licensing deal may herald further business development. In our view, Oramed's recently-completed licensing deal involving China rights to ORMD-0801 could be a harbinger of additional licensing transactions. The firm might, for example, elect to pursue other regional partnerships with other entities possessing geographically specialized commercial expertise. We believe that the valuation of the China rights to ORMD-0801 at $50M plus royalties on net sales provides a solid benchmark for future transactions.

Discounted technology platform. Oramed currently trades at an enterprise value of ~$74M, while the global diabetes market may exceed $40B by 2018. In our view, positive Phase 2b data with ORMD-0801 could make this oral insulin candidate the subject of an ex-China global licensing transaction or catalyze the acquisition of Oramed in calendar 2016.

Patent estate continues to expand. Earlier this week, Oramed reported the grant of a broad technology patent entitled "Methods and Compositions for Oral Administration of Proteins" by the Indian Patent Office. In our view, this patent grant could pave the way for the company to effectively monetize its technology platform in the rapidly-growing Indian healthcare sector.

Valuation methodology, risks and uncertainties. Factoring in a 12% discount rate, a 60% probability of success for ORMD-0801, and peak annual sales of $2.1B (on which we project double-digit percentage royalties), we derive a total rNPV of $130M. We add to this the value from Oramed's pipeline, mainly ORMD-0901, to which we ascribe a valuation of $180M, to derive a total firm value of $357M. This translates into a price objective of $25.00 per share, assuming net cash of ~$56M and ~14.9M fully-diluted shares outstanding as of end-fiscal 2016. Risks to our price target include, but are not limited to: (i) adverse results from the Phase 2b trial of ORMD-0801; (ii) delays and potential negative data from other studies, including the Phase 1b trial of ORMD-0901; and (iii) negative regulatory actions.
